

Instant Teleseminar - Teleseminars and Webinars... For Coaches, Speakers, and Marketers

"I Wanted to Reach My Target Audience But Wasn't Ready for Webinars or Public Speaking. Using My Phone Was The Answer."

First of all, what is a teleseminar?

I was introduced to teleseminars in 2008 when Alex Mandossian hosted his popular Teleseminar Secrets course. Teleseminars are similar to traditional seminars, in content and purpose, but they are given virtually over a teleconference or bridge line rather than at a specific location. You may use a land line or a cell phone to host your calls. They are used to provide information, training, or promote or sell products to group of people interested in a particular topic.

My goal was to have more visibility on the internet and do this from my home office...hosting weekly teleseminars at the same day and time helped me to quickly accomplish this goal.

Instant Teleseminar continues to be the gold standard for the teleseminar world. You can broadcast your events via phone or on the internet and set up interactive live broadcast page in minutes. All you need is a telephone and a computer, and you're instantly building increased trust and added responsiveness.

I have used this service since it debuted in 2007 and have now hosted and recorded more than three thousand hours of calls, earning me well over three million dollars.

Instant Teleseminar includes hundreds of built-in webcast templates, fully editable with fill-in-the-blank setup. You get unlimited events, one-click recording, and instant online replay, saving you hours of extra work.

You may also add buttons on the page that encourage prospects to purchase. And save hours of work with the instant online replay. This type of marketing is effective and simple to set up.

Here are more benefits to using the Instant Teleseminar service:

- ✚ There's no software to download, ever, making it extremely low-tech
- ✚ Works on all devices so your audience can participate on their PC, Mac, tablet, smart phone or landline phone, and enjoy the same experience
- ✚ You can display your slides, or even pre-recorded video for a multi-media presentation
- ✚ Includes a Live Event Checklist, help videos, and technical support
- ✚ Unlimited recordings and automatic backup recordings in case you forget to record

Did I mention the pages are fill-in-the-blank and gorgeous? Lots of templates to choose from; here is a recent one I created for an online course I am teaching:
